EUCALYPTUS CULTIVATION IN SOUTHERN AND SOUTHEASTERN BRAZIL

Tour 2

Pre-congress | September 22nd to 28th

This trip was specially prepared to find out more about the Eucalyptus cultivation in the South and Southeast regions of Brazil.

Currently Brazil has 5.7 million hectares planted with Eucalyptus, with an average production of 35.7 m³/ha/year. It is the most widespread forestry cultivation in the country, being widely used in the paper and pulp industry, wood plates, steel industry, besides being widely used for poles and energy.

The visited regions have records on productivity in Brazil due to ► the high fertility of the soils, good precipitation and long years of genetic improvement. At Klabin, Telêmaco Borba Unit, in the State of Paraná, yields above 60 m³/ha/year can be seen.

You will see the complete cycle of operations at three forest-based companies and will have the opportunity to discuss with experts from breeding strategy, pest control, planting and maintenance of harvesting and timber transportation for the industrial processes use. We will also visit a sawmill that benefits and exports sawn wood from Eucalyptus. The last day will be a quiet day in a city in the countryside of the State of São Paulo, ▶ in the region known as Circuito das Águas. This is a bus trip, starting in Curitiba on Sunday, September 22nd and ending September 28th in Curitiba (pre-congress).

The trip will be accompanied by a Forest Engineer or Researcher with more than 20 years of experience in forest operations in Brazil.
